

Drone? Hardly.

*Carl Davies
Manager
West Wales UAV Centre*

Why are some of the world's brightest minds in aviation flocking to ParcAberporth, Wales? Because it's one of the world's hottest R&D locations for Unmanned Air Vehicles. In fact, the West Wales Airport is the first UK air facility to be approved for regular and routine UAV flying by the Civil Aviation Authority. That's Wales, where passion and ingenuity meet to get big ideas off the ground. And that's one reason nearly 500 companies from around the world have operations here. Perhaps our way of thinking could give your company a lift, too.

International Business Wales

www.internationalbusinesswales.com

800.65.WALES